Ed Koharik

President

Edward J. Koharik III was named Chief Operating Officer for ATSG in September 2019. He is responsible for all aspects of the day-to-day operations of ATSG's airlines, maintenance, and service businesses. He was named President of ABX Air in November 2024.

Prior to joining ATSG, Koharik was most recently senior vice president of FlightSafety International in New York City. Earlier, he was a director at the U.S. Transportation Command, working with more than 400 commercial providers of transportation services to supplement the federal government's own transport resources.
